

Campus Election Engagement Assessment

Campus Election Engagement Project (CEEP) developed this assessment to identify which nonpartisan election engagement practices currently take place on your campus and which can be usefully added. Campuses are encouraged to use the assessment to develop and evaluate institutional election engagement plans. CEEP staff are eager to provide campuses with tools, resources, and strategies to support election engagement efforts.

The assessment should take no longer than 10 minutes to complete, either on paper or online at airtable.com. If you fill it out online, CEEP will forward you the results. Thank you for your time and we look forward to working together.

Level of Election Engagement

High Engagement Score Range: 18-22 Points (16-20 for non-residential campuses)

Your campus is dedicated to student election engagement and is developing a comprehensive approach to help students become informed participants in the democratic process.

Major challenge: To continue the process and fill in underdeveloped areas.

Medium Engagement Score Range: 8-17 Points (6-15 for non-residential campuses)

Your campus is doing important things to engage students, and they will make a difference.

Major challenge: To expand the team working to engage your campus and fill in underdeveloped areas, including undertaking new initiatives using CEEP's coaching and resources.

Beginning Engagement Score Range: 0-7 Points (0-5 for non-residential campuses)

Your campus is at the beginning point where most of our partner schools started, and you're taking critical first steps by looking at what's been done and what could be done to engage your students.

Major challenge: To bring together a team to help your campus undertake initiatives in key areas. You don't have to do everything, but whatever you do will be more than if you weren't engaged, and you can build on it from there. CEEP is happy to coach you and provide resources to help you through early steps and to help you make continued progress.
